PROCEEDINGS

OF THE

LINGUISTIC SOCIETY OF AMERICA

AT THE FOURTH SUMMER MEETING

CHAPEL HILL AND DURHAM, JULY 11–2, 1941

The Linguistic Society of America held its Fourth Special Summer Meeting at Chapel Hill and Durham, North Carolina, on Friday and Saturday, July 11–2, 1941, in conjunction with the session of the Linguistic Institute on the campus of the University of North Carolina. Duke University was host to the Society on Friday evening at an informal dinner, after which the evening session was held on the Duke campus.

Those attending the meeting were invited to arrive somewhat in advance of the sessions, or to stay over after their end, in order to attend the classes and see the Linguistic Institute in operation, as well as to attend the lectures and conferences on linguistic subjects which had been prepared for the days preceding and following the meeting.

The Local Committee in charge of the arrangements consisted of Mr. Lane, chairman; Mr. Holmes, Mr. Kent, Mr. Lund, and Mr. Cowan.

The following members and members-elect registered for the mee ting:

F. G. Banta, W. R. Barrett Jr., P. F. Baum, M. S. Beeler, Mrs. A. F. Blaser Jr., B. Bloch, L. Bloomfield.
J. M. Carrière, J. M. Cowan.

G. L. Trager.
E. J. Upton.
Miss J. O. Van De Water, C. F. Voegelin.
C. M. Woodard.
C. A. Yeo. [60]

The First Session was held in Chapel Hill on the afternoon of Friday, July 11, in Gerrard Hall. The President of the Society, Mr. R. G. Kent, called the meeting to order at 2:00 P.M. and presided throughout the session. About 78 persons were present.

Mr. R. B. House, Dean of Administration of the University of North Carolina, extended a cordial welcome on behalf of the University to the visiting members of the Society and their guests.

The Chairman appointed as Committee on Resolutions Miss Hahn, chairman; Mr. Dillon and Mr. Hall.

Papers 1–3 were presented and discussed.

Recess was taken at 3:15 for registration and the meeting re-convened at 3:30. Mr. Lane explained arrangements for transportation to the Duke campus for the Invitation Dinner.

After the presentation and discussion of papers 4–6, Mr. Holmes announced the Subscription Luncheon for the following day at the Carolina Inn. The meeting adjourned at 5:00 P.M.

Members of the Society were the guests of Duke University at an Informal Dinner in the Duke University Union on Friday evening, July 11, at seven o'clock. There were 125 members and guests present. Mr. H. R. Dwire, Vice President of Duke University, welcomed the Society on behalf of the University. President Kent responded for the Society.

After the dinner, those attending were entertained by a specially arranged outdoor carillon concert before re-convening for the Invitation Program in Room 210 of the Duke School of Religion.

The Second Session was called to order by President Kent at 8:45 P.M. There were about 125 persons present.

Mr. Bloomfield and Mr. Franklin Edgerton presented papers 7 and 8, both of which were received with the liveliest interest and enthusiasm. The meeting adjourned at 10:00 P.M.

The Third Session was held on the morning of Saturday, July 12, in Gerrard Hall on the campus of the University of North Carolina. Mr. Kent called the meeting to order at 9:00 A.M. and presided throughout the session. About 65 persons were present. Papers 9–15 were presented and discussed. Adjournment was taken at 11:38.

About 75 members and guests of the Society joined in a Subscription Luncheon at the Carolina Inn, at 12:15 P.M.

The Fourth Session was held on the afternoon of Saturday, July 12, in Gerrard Hall. Mr. Kent called the meeting to order at 2:00 P.M. and presided throughout the session. About 73 persons were present. Papers 16–20 were presented and discussed. Paper 21 was presented by title. Miss Hahn, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, presented the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

The Linguistic Society of America, as its very happy and fruitful Fourth Summer Meeting draws to a close, wishes to express its warm gratitude to those institutions and individuals that have done so much to make the meeting so happy and so fruitful: to the University of North Carolina for its graciousness in inviting the members of the Society to gather upon its campus, and for its generosity in placing its facilities at the disposal of the Society, notably at the Friday afternoon session and at the morning and afternoon sessions on Saturday, as well as at the tea which it tendered the members at the close of the meeting on Saturday; to Duke University for its delightful hospitality on Friday evening, when the members of the Society were entertained at dinner, were given the opportunity to hear a fine carillon concert, and were provided with a hall for their evening meeting; to the Program Committee, under the very able chairmanship of Professor Lane, and also especially to the Director of the Linguistic Institute, Professor Holmes, for care in making arrangements and skill in carrying them out, as well as to Mr. Lancaster for his faithful assistance at the registration desk.

Adjournment was taken at 4:30, after which the members with their wives and guests proceeded to the lounge of the Graham Memorial Building as guests of the University of North Carolina at an informal tea.

R. L. Ward, T. G. Wesenberg, H. Whitehall, C. A. Williams, W. J. Williamson III, W. H. Willis. [83]

In addition to these, 26 guests registered.

The First Session of the Linguistic Society was held on the morning of Thursday, January 1, in the Palm Room of the Claypool Hotel. President Kent called the meeting to order at 9:33 A.M., and presided throughout the reading of papers. About 80 persons were present at this session. The President read a letter of welcome to the Society from Henry T. Davis, Secretary-Manager of the Indianapolis Convention and Publicity Bureau. Papers 1–5 were presented and discussed, after which the business of the Society was taken up.

The reading of the minutes of the preceding meetings was called for. The Secretary stated that the minutes of the Ann Arbor meeting of July 26–7, 1940, and those of the Seventeenth Annual Meeting held in Providence on December 30–1, 1940, had already been printed in Bulletin No. 14 and that no corrections had been brought to his attention. On motion it was voted that the reading of the minutes of these two meetings be dispensed with, and that they be adopted. On a second motion it was voted that the reading of the minutes of the Fourth Summer Meeting, held at Chapel Hill July 11–2, 1941, be dispensed with, as they were shortly to be printed in Bulletin No. 15.

The Secretary, Mr. Cowan, presented the following report, which was ordered received and filed:

For the year 1941 the membership statistics are as follows: For the year 1940 there were 552 members (apart from Honorary Members), of whom three died during the year (C. Adler, C. Goetsch, D. B. Shumway); 20 presented their resignations, effective at the end of 1940 (A. P. Ball, H. A. Basilius, Miss F. J. Bloch, E. B. Dike, L. H. Gray, R. T. Hill, Mrs. L. B. Holland, Mrs. F. W. Hopkins, A. P. Kehlenbeck, Mrs. M. Lilienthal, S. B. Meech, G. C. Miles, Mrs. M. J. Murphy, W. B. Pillsbury, F. M. Rogers, R. E. Saleski, Miss P. Segal, H. W. Sugden, Miss G. Van Adestine, K. V. Zettersteen); one returned publications unpaid for in 1940 and submitted a resignation effective at the end of 1939; twelve were dropped for non-payment of dues during 1939 and 1940. The net membership with which the Society started 1941 was therefore 516; the new members for 1941 are 89. The total membership for 1941, in addition to the Honorary Members, is 605, a gain of 53 over 1940. Of these, 13 are unpaid for 1940–1 and subject to being dropped from the rolls on Jan. 1, 1942, and 81 others were, on Dec. 20, 1941 (when the financial books were closed), unpaid for 1941. We regretfully record the death of five Active Members in 1941: Manuel J. Andrade on January 26, Henry Hyvernat on May 29, Guy S. Lowman on August 4, Ezra Kempton Maxfield on January 8, and Benjamin Lee Whorf on July 26.

The Honorary Members were 23 in 1940, of whom one, Nikolaas Van Wijk, died during 1941.

The domestic Library Subscriptions have increased from 110 to 115, by a gain of 8 and a loss of 3; but foreign subscriptions have decreased from 65 to 45, by a loss of 27 and a gain of 7. The American Library Association has contracted for the purchase of 40 subscriptions to LANGUAGE for 1941 and 15 subscriptions for 1940. These are to be stored by the Society and distributed at the direction of the Association's Committee on Libraries in War Areas after the cessation of hostilities.

The exchanges and copies for review are 10 domestic and 13 foreign at the end of 1941.

No change has been made in the number of foreign scholars on the complimentary list. Because of the increasing difficulties in distribution to foreign addresses it has been necessary to store a great number of the regular publications intended for foreign exchange and review and for scholars on the complimentary list until such time as they may be distributed safely. The addressees have been notified by ordinary mail.

There are 31 members in the Group for Phonemics and 48 in the Group for American Indian Linguistics.

I wish to express my gratitude to Mr. Kent for his constant help and advice throughout the year in acquainting me with the duties and administration of the offices of Secretary and Treasurer. I am also greatly indebted to the members of the Executive Committee for their close cooperation and prompt handling of matters of business put before them. My sincere appreciation is due to Mr. Williams and Mr. Baugh, the Trustees, and to Mr. E. H. Sturtevant, Mr. W. F. Edgerton, and Mr. Larsen, the other members of the advisory Committee on Investment of Linguistic Institute Endowment Funds, for the time and consideration they have given to the matter of investing the Endowment of the Society; to Mr. Franklin Edgerton for his unsolicited periodical reports on income to Endowment from pledges; to the Editor, Mr. Bloch, and to the staff of the Waverly Press for orienting me in the details involved in preparing and financing our program of publication; and to Mr. Lyte and Mr. Cousins, the Auditors, for their careful and critical examination of the books at the end of the year. In behalf of the Society I take this opportunity to thank the Administration of the State University of Iowa for having generously placed at the disposition of the Society certain facilities such as mailing service, printing service, storage shelves for publications, and office furniture, which have helped considerably to simplify the administration of the office.

At the conclusion of the Secretary's report Mr. Sturtevant presented the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved that the Linguistic Society of America expresses to the State University of Iowa its gratitude for the use of a considerable amount of storage space for the preservation of the Society's stock of publications. This action of the University is saving the Society a considerable annual outlay for the rental of storage space from some commercial agency.

As Treasurer, Mr. Cowan presented the following report:

The report of the Trustees of the Endowment Funds is here appended:

The Trustees of the Endowment Funds report that during the year 1941 the sum of $506.50 has been received for the Endowment of the Linguistic Institute through the activity of Mr. Edgerton's Committee.

In order to act on the recommendation of the Committee on the Investment of Linguistic Institute Endowment Funds that the Endowment Funds of the Linguistic Institute be invested in good common stocks, the Trustees sold the Five Thousand Dollar United States Treasury Bond. The proportionate capital gain on the $2092.00 of Linguistic Institute Endowment Funds in the bond was $278.01. The following is an account of the Linguistic Institute Endowment Funds on December 20, 1941:

Balance December 19, 1940	$1,031.95
Proportionate share in U. S. bond	2,092.00
Profit on sale of bond	278.01

Received from Committee on Pledges	506.50
By gift received in 1940 and transferred from current funds	550.00
By sale of A. T. & T. rights	3.60
	$4,462.06

The following stock securities, representing an investment of $4,328.48, were purchased by the Trustees upon the recommendation of the Committee on the Investment of Linguistic Institute Endowment Funds:

3 Am. Tel. & Tel.	10 Montgomery Ward
15 Borden	10 Phillips Petroleum
4 du Pont	10 Texas Gulf Sulphur
15 General Electric	5 Union Carbide
30 Irving Trust	8 United Aircraft
10 Kennecott Copper

There remains a balance of $133.58 to be invested in interest-bearing securities.

The proportionate capital gain on the $1,512.00 of Endowment Funds of the Society in the U. S. Treasury Bond was $195.22. The Trustees purchased $1,800.00 worth of Federal Savings and Loan Certificates, $1,707.22 of which represent the present Endowment of the Society, and the balance current funds.

By written agreement with the officers of the First Capital National Bank of Iowa City, Iowa, the above listed stock securities and savings and loan certificates of the Society were inventoried and placed in a safety deposit box in that bank, where they are subject to removal in the presence of a bank trust officer only upon written order bearing the signatures of the Treasurer and one Trustee, or the signatures of two Trustees and the President of the Society.

Trustees

The President announced that he had previously appointed Mr. H. O. Lyte and Mr. C. E. Cousins to serve as Auditors of the Treasurer's report. He then read their report as follows:

We have examined the Balance Sheet and the Profit and Loss Statement submitted by the Treasurer of the Linguistic Society of America for the period December 20, 1940 to December 20, 1941 and certify, from a check of the entries in the Ledger, that the said Statement and Balance Sheet are correct. It is our understanding that the report of the Trustees of the Endowment Fund will be included in the published report of the Treasurer.

(Signed) C. E. Cousins
H. O. Lyte

On motion the report of the Treasurer was then adopted.

On behalf of the Executive Committee, the Secretary presented the following report:

During the year the Executive Committee, acting by correspondence, elected to membership several lists of nominees published in LANGUAGE as elected in 1941; fixed the time and place of the present meeting; and arranged the program.

Mr. Kent, as President, appointed Mr. Vernam E. Hull as Delegate to the Centennial Celebration of Fordham University; appointed Mr. Carl Darling Buck as Delegate for the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration of the University of Chicago; appointed as Local Committee for the Summer Meeting in Chapel Hill Mr. George Lane, chairman, with Mr. U. T.

Holmes Jr., Mr. J. J. Lund, and the President and the Secretary of the Society; appointed as Local Committee for the Eighteenth Annual Meeting at Indianapolis Mrs. Margaret T. Fisher, chairman, with Messrs. T. G. Wesenberg, Guido H. Stempel, C. F. Voegelin, and the Secretary of the Society.

The Executive Committee voted to approve the recommendation of the Committee on the Place of the Linguistic Institute 1941 and 1942, that the Society accept the invitation of the University of North Carolina to conduct the Linguistic Institute of 1942 as part of that University's Summer Session, on terms which had been agreed upon between the University and the Society's Committee. Mr. Kent, as President, continued the Committee on the Place of the Linguistic Institute 1941 and 1942 to serve until such time as the Committee itself, or the Executive Committee of the Society, shall consider it wise to discontinue it or to change its membership. The Executive Committee appointed Mr. Robert W. Linker to the Administrative Committee of the Linguistic Institute.

The Executive Committee appointed an advisory Committee on the Investment of Linguistic Institute Endowment Funds consisting of Messrs. E. H. Sturtevant, chairman; A. C. Baugh, E. B. Williams, W. F. Edgerton, Henning Larsen, and J. M. Cowan.

The Executive Committee voted to transfer a gift of $550.00 made to the Society in 1940 by an anonymous donor from Current Funds to the Endowment Fund of the Linguistic Institute, with the reservation that under the terms of the gift the Society may, at its discretion, order the allocation of this sum from the Linguistic Institute Endowment Fund to other purposes if, in the future, it should appear desirable. This action was taken after it had been determined that the gift had originally been intended for the support of the Linguistic Institute, although this intention was not expressed at the time the gift was made.

The Executive Committee authorized the Treasurer to make a token contribution of $25.00 in behalf of the Society toward preparation of the volume Studies in the History of Culture which is being published by the Conference of Secretaries of the Constituent Societies of the American Council of Learned Societies.

The Executive Committee met on Wednesday afternoon, December 31, 1941, at the Claypool Hotel, Indianapolis, Indiana. Present, President R. G. Kent, presiding, and Mr. A. C. Baugh, Mr. W. Freeman Twaddell, Mr. C. F. Voegelin, Mr. Franklin Edgerton as proxy for Mr. W. F. Albright for the meeting; also, by constitutional provision, Miss E. A. Hahn, Mr. E. H. Sturtevant, Mr. M. L. Hanley (these without vote); and Mr. Bernard Bloch by invitation.

Additional nominees for membership were elected.

Reports of officers, of standing and special committees, and of delegates were informally presented and their contents considered.

Mr. Kent presented the following report for the Managing Committee of the Group for Phonemics:

The Managing Committee of the Group for Phonemics (Hans Kurath, W. F. Twaddell, R. G. Kent) has, after correspondence with all members, decided to discontinue the Group as a working organization. The dues of recent years in the International Association for Phonemics which have not been paid over, will be held by the Treasurer of the Linguistic Society of America for later payment if the Association proves still to be a living organization; and if not, this sum shall be devoted to some kindred subject. If later there shall be the possibility of usefulness in the Group, the Managing Committee will take steps to reorganize it.

Mr. Hanley, for the Committee on the Present Status of College and University Courses Announced under the Name of Phonetics (Mr. Hanley, chairman; Mr. R. H. Stetson, Mr. J. S. Kenyon), reported progress to the Executive Committee, which acted to add Mr. J. B. McMillan to the Committee.

The Executive Committee, as the result of its deliberations, asks the Society to approve the following recommendations:

1. That the Treasurer of the Society be empowered to pay to the University of North Carolina, for the purpose of bringing special lecturers to the Linguistic Institute, a sum not exceeding the amount standing on the books of the Society on June 1, 1942, to the credit of the current funds of the Linguistic Institute.

2. That the Linguistic Society arrange for a special summer meeting at Chapel Hill during the 1942 session of the Linguistic Institute.

3. That the Committee on Nominations be instructed to submit its report to the Secretary of the Society on or before September 10, 1942.

4. That the Society instruct the incoming President to appoint a committee of three to select the beneficiaries of the Dues Fund for Refugee Scholars.

5. That under the Constitution II.6 Hardin Craig be relieved from further payment of annual dues, without loss of any of the privileges of membership.

The Executive Committee decided not to make any recommendations for election to Honorary Membership.

Other matters were discussed, but did not call for formal action.

The report was ordered to be received and filed. On motion the Society adopted collectively the recommendations of the Executive Committee 1–5 by unanimous consent.

Mr. Bloch, Editor and Chairman of the Society's Committee on Publications, presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

During the year 1941 the Society has issued the following publications:

LANGUAGE, Vol. 17, 364 pages.

Language Dissertation No. 32: Philip Scherer, Germanic-Balto-Slavic Etyma; 63 pages.

Language Dissertation No. 33: Joseph H. D. Allen Jr.: Portuguese Word-Formation with Suffixes; 143 pages.

Language Dissertation No. 34: William G. Moulton, Swiss German Dialect and Romance Patois; 75 pages.

Bulletin No. 14: The Preparation of Copy for Printing, Proceedings of the Ann Arbor Meeting 1940, Proceedings of the Providence Meeting 1940, List of Members 1940; 70 pages.

Special Publication: Robert A. Hall Jr., Bibliography of Italian Linguistics; 543 pages, bound in buckram.

A rough classification of articles in the current volume of the journal according to the languages treated reveals the following distribution:

Romance languages	51 pp.
English	47 pp.
Latin and Greek	38 pp.
American Indian languages	34 pp.
Germanic (exclusive of English)	20 pp.
Indo-Hittite and Indo-European	19 pp.
Irish	9 pp.
Others (one article each)	50 pp.

The new format described in LANG. 17.78–9 and Bull. 14.25, increasing the number of 10-point lines per page from 40 to 45 and the length of each line from 4¼ to 4¾ inches, has worked out very well and appears to have met with general approval. The relative economy of this format may be judged by the fact that the 364 pages of the journal are the equivalent of approximately 450 pages in the old format.

The first issue of the Society's publication for this year (LANG. 17.1, Bull. No. 14, Diss. No. 32) was printed on paper thinner and smoother than the stock used previously, and at least in theory better able to take ink. Unfortunately, the new stock proved unsuitable in use; and all subsequent issues of the Society's publications have been printed on the old stock. After consultation with Mr. Grover C. Orth, editor of the Waverly Press, and partly on his advice, the Committee on Publications decided to make no further changes.

The stock now used, a 50-pound base paper with 30 percent rag content, is guaranteed to last without yellowing or brittling for at least a generation, and seems in most respects to be definitely superior to other stocks of comparable price.

The Committee have received enough material in the form of articles to give each number of the journal both substance and reasonable variety; but reviews have been more difficult to secure. Although the number of reviews published in the current volume of LANGUAGE is considerably above the average of previous years (30 as compared with about 19), an even larger number is desirable if the journal is to serve the purpose of reflecting and evaluating the new developments in our science. Accordingly, the Committee would urge all members of the Society to cooperate in expanding this phase of our activity by contributing reviews of new books in their fields of special interest. Books sent to the Editor and listed under Publications Received are usually available for review by any qualified member of the Society; but the Committee would especially welcome unsolicited reviews, since not all publishers furnish review copies of their publications, and since the Editor, in any case, cannot personally know the specialists in every field.

As regards reviews, it cannot be too often or too plainly emphasized that their tone and content are exclusively the authors'; the judgments expressed in them must never be interpreted as reflecting the policy of the journal. LANGUAGE is not the organ of any one school of linguistic theory, but of the Linguistic Society as a whole. It may publish controversial views, and occasionally it may seem to give more space to one side of a controversy than to another, if the supporters of that side happen to send in more material; but the Committee on Publication, in their official capacity, have no interest in promoting any special cause beyond the one for whose advancement our Society was organized.

My sincere thanks are due to the other members of this Committee for their collaboration; to Mr. Kent and Mr. Cowan for invaluable assistance in the printing of our publications; to the many other members of the Linguistic Society, my colleagues and friends, for the generous way in which they have always answered my calls for advice; and to Mr. Orth and the staff of the Waverly Press for their efficient service and their friendly cooperation.

Mr. Holmes, as Director of the Linguistic Institute, presented the following report for the Administrative Committee of the Linguistic Institute (Mr. Holmes, director; Mr. E. H. Sturtevant, associate director; Mr. Fries, Mr. Lane, Mr. Pierson, Mr. Linker), which was ordered to be received and filed:

The session of the Linguistic Institute for 1941 was held at the University of North Carolina, in Chapel Hill, from June 12 to July 19. In order to give two semester or three quarter hours of credit, it was necessary to hold the courses six times a week. Thirty courses were offered, including Phonetics and Phonemics, Experimental Phonetics, American Dialects, Introduction to Linguistic Science, Celtic, Sanskrit, Chinese, American Indian Languages, Algonquian, Greek and Latin Grammar, Lithuanian, Akkadian, Comparative Semitic, English, Germanics, Vulgar Latin, Old French, Old Provençal, Old Italian, Old Spanish, and Elementary Greek; Tocharian was also offered, for the second time in the United States. There were ten visiting instructors and seven from the regular faculty of the University of North Carolina. There were forty-five students who did not have the doctor's degree and twenty-two with this degree, making a total of sixty-seven registered students. Nearly all the members of the teaching staff attended courses also. The Introduction to Linguistic Science, given by Mr. E. H. Sturtevant, with the assistance of Mr. G. L. Trager, was the feature course of the session; nearly everyone attended, joining in the very profitable discussions. Five Thursday luncheon discussions were held, and there were four public lectures on Sunday evenings.

In 1942 we are planning to carry on as usual, while at the same time we stand ready to aid in the national war program in any way that may be suggested. Again we expect to have at least thirty courses, with nine visiting instructors and seven members of the University of North Carolina staff. As there was some objection last year to Saturday classes, we shall avoid them in 1942 by holding the Institute over for an extra three days. The American Council of Learned Societies will again grant scholarships for varying amounts but in no case for more than one hundred dollars. In addition it has allotted the Institute a very generous grant for its partial support in 1942.

Mr. Franklin Edgerton, for the Standing Committee on Research (Mr. Edgerton, chairman; Mr. Bloomfield, Mr. Bolling), presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

The Committee on Research has considered such projects as have been referred to it during the year, but has made no positive recommendations.

The Secretary stated that no report had been received from the Committee on the Application of Linguistic Knowledge to Practical Problems of Teachers of English (Mr. Fries, chairman; Mr. Bloomfield, Mr. Kenyon).

Mr. Sturtevant, for the advisory Committee on the Investment of Linguistic Institute Endowment Funds (Mr. Sturtevant, chairman; Mr. W. F. Edgerton, Mr. Larsen, Mr. Baugh, Mr. Williams, Mr. Cowan), presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

The Committee has recommended the investments enumerated in the Treasurer's Report.

The Secretary, for the Committee on the Beneficiaries of the Dues Fund, (Mr. Senn, chairman; Mr. Keniston, Mr. Malone), presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

The Committee reports that the following contributions have been made: one member of the Linguistic Society, who wants to remain anonymous, paid the dues for 1941 for one specifically designated candidate; additional contributions have been made in the amount of $25.00. No new appropriations have been made from this fund in addition to the one already mentioned and specially provided for. The fund holds now $25.00. The committee wishes to extend most sincere thanks to the donors and expects that contributions will continue to come in in the future. Members of the Linguistic Society are urged to contribute to this good cause by sending their contributions to the Treasurer, either designating a specific beneficiary or leaving the decision to the committee.

Mr. Franklin Edgerton, for the Committee on Endowment for the Linguistic Institute (Mr. Edgerton, chairman; Miss Hahn, Mr. Fries), presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

During the year the Committee has received $506.50 in payments on pledges to the Endowment of the Linguistic Institute. A capital gain of $278.01 to the Linguistic Institute Endowment Fund was realized on the $2,092.00 invested in the U. S. Treasury Bond when that bond was sold. The amount of $3.60 was gained by the sale of A. T. & T. rights. The Executive Committee voted to transfer a $550.00 gift received in 1940 from current funds to Linguistic Institute Endowment, thus bringing the increase in Linguistic Institute Endowment to $1,338.11 for the year 1941. The total amount now in this fund is $4,462.06. There are pledges outstanding in the amount of $484.50.

Mr. Sturtevant, for the Delegates to the American Council of Learned Societies (Mr. Sturtevant, term expiring 1942; Mr. Lane, term expiring 1944), presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

During the past year the activities of the Council have been directed more than ever before to matters of interest to the Linguistic Society.

The generous support given to the Linguistic Atlas of the United States and Canada since the inception of that project has been continued. During the year the second volume of the New England Atlas has been published, and the Council has pledged $1000, which insures the prompt publication of the third volume when the maps are ready—probably next spring.

It is hoped that adequate support for the next three sessions of the Linguistic Institute can soon be found. In the meantime the Council has guaranteed payment of a subvention of $2000, on July 1, 1942, toward the costs of next summer's session.

During the year the Council has received from the Rockefeller Foundation a generous subvention for intensive instruction in unusual languages, and this is interpreted to mean particularly modern oriental languages. A similar grant is to be devoted to intensive instruction in Chinese, Japanese, and Russian. Both sums are being administered by a committee consisting of Mortimer Graves, Franklin Edgerton, and Howland Shaw.

Since usable grammars, dictionaries, etc. for some of these languages do not exist, it is necessary first of all to create them, and the committee has wisely decided to insist that this work shall be scientifically sound in order to be as efficient as possible.

Actual instruction is under way in Japanese and Chinese. Implementation has been begun on Siamese, Persian, Malay, and North African Arabic. Plans are approaching completion for similar work on native African languages, Hungarian, Finnish, and Turkish.

Several governmental departments and agencies are interested in this work, and it is hoped that in the end it may be largely supported by the government.

The Secretary stated that no report had been received from Mr. Herzog, Delegate to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

For Mr. Sehrt, Delegate to the American Documentation Institute, the Secretary presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

As representative of the Society on the Board of the American Documentation Institute, I beg to report that no linguistic work was published in microfilm in 1941.

For Mr. McQuown, Delegate to the Mexican Council for Indigenous Languages, the Secretary presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

Because of changes in the political scene in Mexico and certain adjustments in government policy in the various official organisms which constituted the chief financial support of the Mexican Council for Indian Languages, especially in view of the abandonment on the part of the Mexican Department of Indian Affairs of the program of education in Indian languages, the activities of the Council have been limited to the purely voluntary work of the various members in perfecting the general alphabet of the Council and in the creation of alphabets for particular languages.

The following alphabets have been discussed and approved in the sessions of the Council during the past year: Otomi, Aztec, Yaqui, Taráhumara, Maya, Tarascan, Zapotec, and Totonac. Although in a few details these alphabets still need perfecting, the Council does not hesitate to recommend them for all scientific and popular use.

The future of the work of the Council is extremely uncertain in view of the lack of official interest in its practical work on the one hand, and because of the instability of the situations of some of its most active members on the other.

It has not yet been possible to publish the Review of the Council, but the Council hopes to print a full report of the work on alphabets which has been carried out in the past year.

Following this report Mr. Swadesh gave a brief account of the linguistic work being done in Mexico, especially the application of phonemic orthographies to unwritten languages.

For Mr. Hull, Delegate to the Fordham University Centennial Celebration, the Secretary presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

I should like to report to you that as the accredited delegate of the Linguistic Society of America, I had the honor to attend the centennial celebrations of Fordham University, which were held at New York in September of this year. During the three days of these celebrations, I had numerous occasions at various functions to felicitate the authorities of this distinguished seat of learning on the many notable achievements of Fordham, especially in the realm of scholarship, during its century of existence, and, at the same time, to extend to them as well as to the University, which they are serving in such an eminent way, the sincerest wishes of all of the members of our Society for an equally brilliant and prosperous future.

For Mr. Buck, Delegate to the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration of the University of Chicago, the Secretary presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

As delegate of the Linguistic Society of America to the Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration of the University of Chicago I returned to Chicago in time to take part in the Linguistic Symposium on Sept. 22. I attended all the functions, social and otherwise, of the main celebration, Sept. 27–9, including the Convocation at which our Professor E. H. Sturtevant was one of the recipients of honorary degrees. The arrangements for the entertainment and comfort of the large body of delegates were notably efficient.

Mr. Edgerton, for the Nominating Committee (Mr. Fries, chairman; Mr. Edgerton, Mr. Kroeber), reported the following nominations:

President, Hans Kurath, Brown University.
Vice-President, E. A. Speiser, University of Pennsylvania.
Secretary-Treasurer, J. M. Cowan, University of Iowa.
Executive Committee 1942–3 (two to be elected)
Einar Haugen, University of Wisconsin
R. L. Ward, Cornell University
Editor, Bernard Bloch, Brown University.
Committee on Publications 1942–4, R. A. Hall Jr., Brown University.
Nominating Committee 1942–4, E. H. Sehrt, George Washington University.

The Secretary reported that all the nominees had stated willingness to serve if elected; that there had been a further nomination, by petition, of Kemp Malone, Johns Hopkins University, for the position on the Committee on Publications 1942–4, and that Mr. Malone had stated that he would serve if elected. Other nominations were called for, and in their absence it was voted that the Secretary be instructed to cast one ballot for all nominees except those for the Committee on Publications 1942–4. It was then voted that polls for the vote for the position on the Committee on Publications be opened at once, to be closed when all those present and desiring to vote had voted. The President appointed Mr. Hockett and the Secretary to act as tellers of the election. While ballots were being distributed Mr. Franklin Edgerton announced that Mr. Fries had been injured in an accidental fall and was consequently unable to attend the meeting. It was voted that a telegram be sent expressing the sympathy of the Society with Mr. Fries on this occasion and the deep regret that his injury made it impossible for him to be present. The President instructed the Secretary to dispatch the telegram.

The Secretary then reported that Mr. Hall had been elected for the position on the Committee on Publications 1942–4.

The President reported that Mr. Kurath desired to be relieved from his position on the Committee on Publications. In the absence of objections Mr. Kurath's resignation was accepted and recorded. The President then called for nominations for the position on the Committee on Publications for the unexpired term 1942–3. Mr. Malone was duly nominated by three members of the Society. In the absence of further nominations it was voted that the Secretary cast one ballot for the nominee for the unexpired term on the Committee on Publications. The President then announced that all officers had been properly elected and would take office immediately after the conclusion of the meeting on the next day. The President appointed as Committee on Resolutions Mr. Franklin Edgerton, Miss Haas and Mr. Kepke.

The President called on the Secretary to read the proposed amendment to the Constitution which had been distributed to members in printed form one month before the meeting. Its adoption was moved by Mr. Trager and properly seconded. The Secretary presided while Mr. Kent proposed an alteration in wording which would condense the form of the proposed amendment without altering its content. Mr. Trager and Mr. Dyen, two of the proposers of the amendment, indicated their willingness to accept the revised wording. It was moved, seconded, and carried by a two-thirds majority that the amendment with the revised wording be adopted. It was further voted that the outgoing President and the Secretary form a committee to work with the proposers and eliminate any verbal inconsistencies in the amendment. The wording of the revised amendment is as follows:

Amend Article II, Members, as follows:
Change Section 1 to read (changes in italics):

1. There shall be six classes of membership: active members, associate members, life members, benefactors, honorary members, subscribing members.

[Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 to remain as now.]
After Section 6, insert two new sections, thus:

7. The wife or husband of any active member may become an associate member on the payment of two dollars and fifty cents as an initiation fee, which shall be considered the first annual fee, and thereafter an annual fee of two dollars and fifty cents. Associate members shall have all the privileges and duties of active members, except the privilege of receiving the publications of the Society; this exception shall not apply to notices or other communications from officers of the Society.

8. An associate member may become an active member upon payment of the full fee of five dollars annually.

[Existing Sections 7, 8, 9 are to be renumbered 9, 10, 11 respectively and follow at this point, remaining otherwise unchanged.]
[Present Section 10 to be renumbered and changed to read:]

12. All classes of members, except associate members, are entitled to [etc., as now].

[Existing Section 11 to be renumbered 13, remaining otherwise unchanged.]

Adjournment was taken at 12:30 P.M.

The Second Session was held on the afternoon of Thursday, January 1, in the Palm Room of the Claypool Hotel. President Kent called the meeting to order at 2:05 and presided throughout the session. About 100 persons were present. Dean S. E. Stout, of Indiana University, delivered an address of welcome to the Society. Papers 6–14 (except 12) and 31 were presented and discussed. Adjournment was taken at 5:15 P.M.

The Annual Informal Dinner of the Society was held on Thursday, January 1, in the Chateau Room of the Claypool. 58 members, guests, and friends of the Society were present.

After the dinner Mr. Kent, the retiring President, presented an address, Retrospect and Prospect. He described the growth of the Society as he had been able to observe it as an officer from the founding to the present time, and in conclusion indicated the problems which lie before a learned society in time of war. After his address the members of the Society presented him with a set of the Linguistic Atlas of New England, and the following honorary address was read:

Dear Colleague:

During the first sixteen years of the Linguistic Society of America you served as Secretary-Treasurer. During this long term you contributed much more of your time and attention to the interests of the Society than such officials usually do, and you have in no small measure fostered the reputation that the Society has attained. During the seventeenth year of the Society's history it has been fortunate in having you as its President.

Now that you are retiring from your long official duties we want to express our sense of obligation to you by a suitable gift. It has seemed appropriate that this gift should be a set of the Linguistic Atlas of New England, the most extensive and probably the most important publication in which the Linguistic Society has had a share.

With it please accept our hearty thanks for your many services to us and to all the members of the Society.

The Third Session was held on the evening of Thursday, January 1, in the Palm Room of the Claypool. President Kent called the meeting to order at 8:20 P.M., and presided throughout. About 72 persons were present. Papers 16–8 and 29 were presented and discussed. Adjournment was taken at 10:45 P.M.

The Fourth Session was held on the morning of Friday, January 2, in the Palm Room of the Claypool. President Kent called the meeting to order at 9:25 A.M., and presided throughout. About 60 persons were present. Papers 19–26 (except 20) were presented and discussed. Adjournment was taken at 11:55 A.M.

The Fifth Session was held on the afternoon of Friday, January 2, in the Palm Room of the Claypool. President Kent called the meeting to order at 2:15 P.M., and presided throughout. After paper 27 had been presented and discussed, a business session was held. Mr. Franklin Edgerton, for the Committee on Resolutions, presented the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

The Linguistic Society of America expresses its gratitude to Butler University and Indiana University for their cordial invitation to meet in Indianapolis; to Dean Stout for his friendly address of welcome; to the local Committee on Arrangements headed by Mrs. Margaret T. Fisher for their excellent handling of the arrangements for the meeting; and to the management of the Claypool Hotel and the Indianapolis Convention Bureau for their efficient cooperation in providing every comfort and convenience for the Society and its members, especially through the instrumentality of Captain Eichelsdoerfer and of Mrs. Marian Campbell. All these agencies have contributed in important ways to making this meeting a memorably enjoyable one to all who were present at it.

While the room was being prepared for lantern-slide projection, it was agreed, at the suggestion of Mr. Swadesh, to devote half an hour to a special discussion of the syllabic phonemes of English. Mr. Bloch was requested to lead the discussion and to present in condensed form the interpretation set forth by Mr. Trager and himself in a recent article in LANGUAGE 17.223–46. Mr. Ward, Mr. Sturtevant, Mr. J. H. D. Allen Jr., Mr. Swadesh, Mr. Bloch, Mr. Hockett, Mr. Trager, Mr. Harris, and Mr. Kent participated in a lively discussion, which it was necessary to interrupt in order to continue the meeting, but which it was agreed should be continued at the close of the session if time permitted.

Papers 28 and 30 were presented and discussed.

President Kent presented papers 12, 15, 20, 32, 33, and 34 by title in the absence of the authors.

The discussion of the syllabic phonemes of English was resumed and continued until 4:35 P.M., when it was felt best to take adjournment in order to enable the participants to continue their discourse informally.
